

Ohio's New Educators

We believe empowered educators spark the minds of those who will effect positive change in the world.

Ohio's New Educators (ONE) is a unique community within the Ohio Education Association (OEA) supporting early career educators and support professionals in their first 10 years of their career. This statewide network engages and empowers educators and support professionals to become successful, active, and visible in their profession and community through collective action.

ONE Supports Early Career Educators Through:

Leadership Development

ONE cultivates leaders to collectively advocate for meaningful and positive change for students and communities by building leadership skills that equip you and your colleagues to inspire others, be more confident in your profession and be a strong voice for your students.

Professional Growth

ONE gives early career educators and support professionals access to some of the most sought-after authorities in education who provide new and innovative programs that you and your colleagues can use in your work environment. You and your colleagues will have access to valuable resources in student behavior supports, current and comprehensive information on educational policy, technology tips and tricks, time management and wellness strategies, and other skills you want to pursue.

Peer-to-Peer Support

ONE provides opportunities to connect and support one another through regional events, working with school districts and member-led meaningful professional development. Every student has the basic right to a great public education. That's why ONE supports early career educators and support professionals who grow tomorrow's inventors, thinkers, artists and leaders.
